

Code Review #1

Name: _____

Date: _____

Question #1 (3 points):

Which is a valid variable naming convention?

- a.) num-of-cats b.) 2ndCatName c.) isCat! d.) is_cat_name

Question #2 (3 points):

What is required at the top of each python code file for this class?

Question #3 (3 points):

Write a print statement using F-strings that prints the variable, distance, to 3 decimal places.

```
distance = 23.2342763
```

Question #4 (3 points):

Write a program that asks a user for their favorite food and store that answer in a variable called favFood.

More Questions on Back

Question #5 (6 points):

Complete the following code:

Formula: $Money = \frac{(Coins^2)}{4} + 2 - 2 \cdot 4$

#obtain user input of coins (integer)

coins = ____ (____ ("Please enter in a quantity of coins: "))

#convert coins to money

money = _____

#print coins to money conversion results (formatted to 2 decimal places & commas)

print(___ "Your inputted quantity of coins is approximately $ _____")

Question #6 (12 points):

Objective: Write a program that takes a distance in feet and converts it to yards.

Requirements:

- Ask user for distance in feet
- Must output converted distance in yards (formatted to 2 decimal places)
- Be sure to write comments explaining each step taken.

Hint: 3 feet = 1 yard